League Overview

Skillset diverse – teams range from developmental travel to highly competitive. Multiple programs have multiple teams

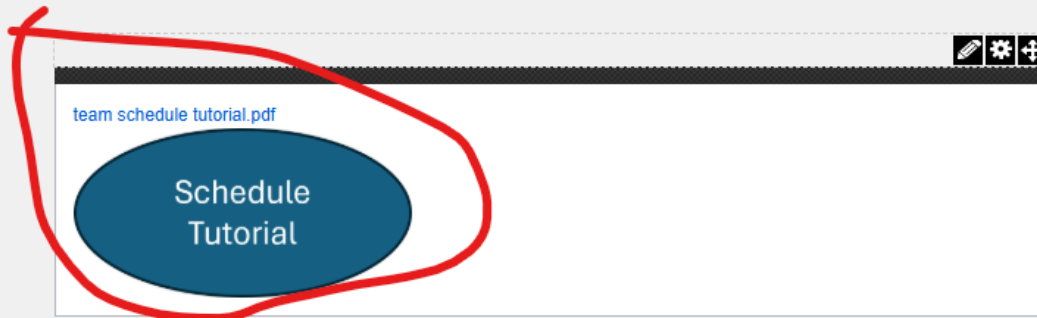

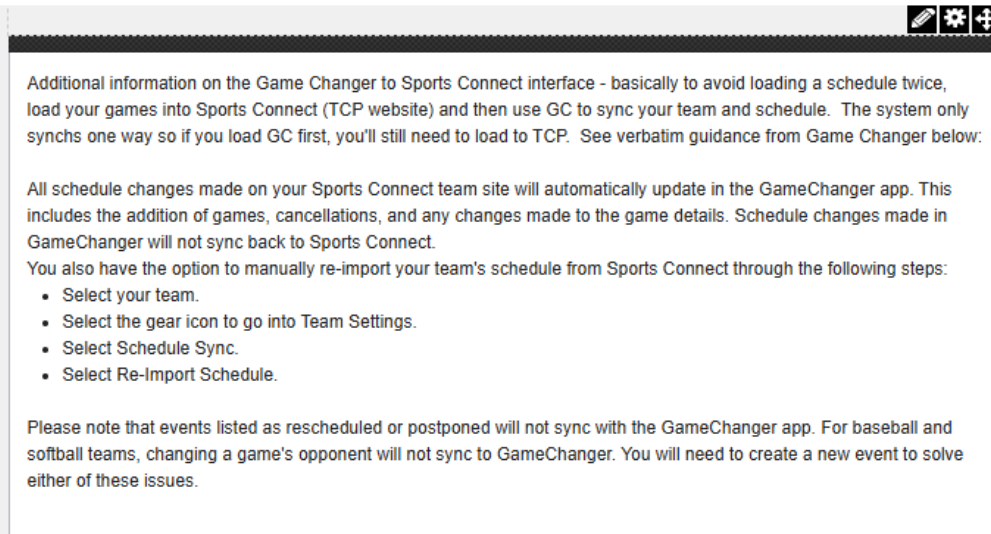

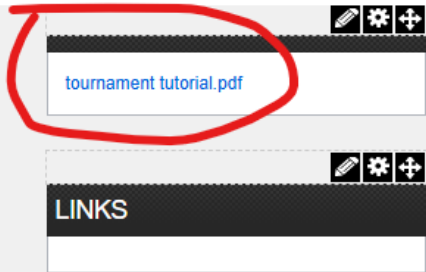

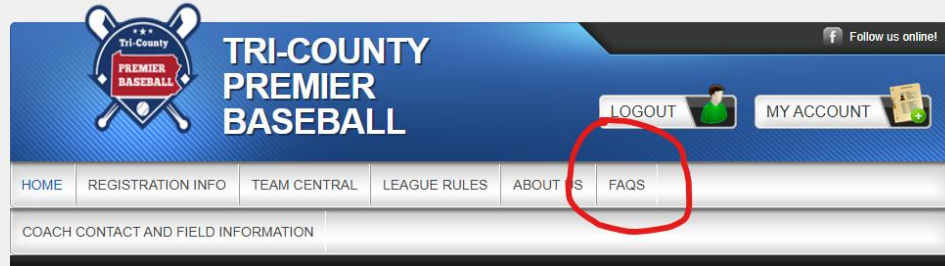

Coach driven league provides convenience, flexibility and affordability

- Coaches coordinate game times and locations
- Home team coordinates umpire – costs are split between teams
- Each team provides 2 new baseballs, but carries used playing condition baseballs for venues with high ball loss
- Scores entered in team site following games

Tournament – 10/24-26, operated by Lenz (lenztournaments.com)

- Points of contact – Matt Wray (wray@lenz-consulting.com) and Mike Palumbo (palumbo@lenz-consulting.com)

Once you're on your team's site, click on Calendar and you'll see several sub-links. All are functional, but the one you need is "Create Event". Click on that button.

Once you click on “Create Event” the following will open. Select Game and continue. Note that with the access I provided, you can schedule practices, team events, etc. There’s actually a lot that can be done through this app, but I’m assuming most teams already have their core infrastructure in place.

The screenshot shows a mobile application interface with a modal dialog box titled "Create an Event". The dialog box has a close button (X) in the top right corner. Inside the dialog, the text "Please choose which type of event you would like to create." is displayed. Below this text are three radio button options: "Game" (selected), "Practice", and "Other". Each option has an information icon (i) to its right. At the bottom of the dialog, there is a question mark icon (?) and a "Continue" button. The background of the app shows a grassy field with a person's legs and a camera icon in the top right corner. A gear icon is also visible in the top right corner of the app's header area. The word "Tea" is partially visible on the left side of the app's header, and "Week" is visible on the left side of the app's footer.

When you click on “Create Event” and Select “Game”, the pop-up to the right will show. It’s pretty self-explanatory, but how you do it is:

- 1) You will default as home team. If you are not the home team use the drop down to select the home team.
- 2) Select your opponent
- 3) I’ve pre-loaded over 30 fields into the drop down. If your field isn’t listed, use the description and email me to get your field address added.
- 4) Select a date, time and duration and any of the optional selections.
- 5) Save your game

Once saved you'll see the game on your team calendar. Your opponent will also see on their calendar (see next slide)

Both teams also have the “Edit Scores” option now showing in their calendar. Either team can edit. Note that if you’re synched with Game Changer, it should update, although I don’t have a test team in GC to confirm.
