COMPETITION, COMMUNITY, CHRIST

MISSION — OUR “WHAT”

3:16 Field House Sports exist to create an atmosphere of competitiveness and community so that Christ would be lifted up and draw all people to Him.

VISION — OUR “HOW”

3:16 Field House Sports seeks to impact our community for the Gospel by:

- 1) Creating authentic relationships which model the truth & hope of the Gospel.
- 2) Sharing the Gospel with every athlete, family member, supporter, and volunteer.
- 3) Striving to redeem the use of competition within our fallen world by focusing on the Character that sports reveals and transforming the way that participants compete.
- 4) Refocusing the emphasis on winning, so that the definition of a win mirrors the progress of a growing, authentic relationship with Christ.
- 5) Competing at the highest level that each athlete and coach is capable of, because the way in which we compete is an opportunity to honor Christ.
- 6) Celebrating victories, but also encouraging those who have fallen short to not quit.
- 7) Showing sportsmanship for all levels of play, from every athlete, coach, and volunteer, both on and off the field or court.

PHILOSOPHY — OUR “WHY”

The Language of Sports is a language that is spoken across all manner of cultures and communities. It is a common denominator that allows relationships to be built. When Jesus ministered to people He met a physical need, and then He met a spiritual need. Sports ministry helps us to build connections with people to appeal to their physical needs (exercise, community, purpose, vision, etc) so that we can meet their spiritual needs (salvation, exhortation, realization of their calling, etc).

WHAT IS COMPETITION, AND WHY DOES IT MATTER?

Competition is an issue that elicits several different responses, but when we understand a healthy reason for competition, we can see that competition is not only a good thing but is a necessary thing! God is the creator of all things— including competition!

The World wants to define competition as establishing dominance over their opponent. This is an example of “Broken Competition.” The World has a desire to take things that God has created and change the focus from God to ourselves. In this Broken mindset, it is easy for our identity to be rooted in wins and losses. The outcome of games can begin to define who we are and what we can be.

The opposite of Broken Competition is what we call “Redeemed Competition.” The Bible uses the imagery of competition quite often throughout Scripture. The Greek word that we use for “contest” or “compete” can be translated as “to strive with.” If we view Competition as an opportunity to strive with one another in order to bring out the best in ourselves and our opponent, competition can be redeemed and the glory from competition can be shifted back to God.

No one finds joy in losing, but with a Biblical perspective on competition we can glorify God in how and why we compete. When we understand that competition is an opportunity to push ourselves and our opponents to improve, we can celebrate progress rather than outcomes. We are able to compete more intensely when we realize that our identity is not wrapped up in the outcome and we can leave it all on the field!

EXPECTATIONS FOR SPECTATORS AND PLAYERS

THE FOLLOWING EXPECTATIONS ARE IN PLACE FOR ALL SPECTATORS AND PLAYERS:

- Teach accountability and responsibility by making practices and games a priority.
- Maintain a positive attitude towards all players, athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers, and other spectators.
- Encourage all players and spectators to view sports as an opportunity to focus on progress, not just wins and losses. Competition is a healthy way to learn how to overcome adversity and achieve goals as an individual and as part of a team.
- Compete at the highest level that you are capable of, knowing that striving for excellence is a way to honor God.

SCRIPTURE MEMORIZATION

Scripture memorization is an important part of spiritual development. With a high emphasis on hiding God's Word in our heart, teams will be given a theme verse every other game. This helps to hold our coaches and parents to a high standard when it comes to sharing the Gospel and helps develop these athletes both on and off the court. The teams will line up prior to each game and will recite the verse to a coach from the opposing team. Every athlete who successfully recites the verse will be tallied, and the total tally will go towards an end of season reward for the team with the most verses memorized. Scripture memorization will also be the first criteria in a tiebreaker scenario.

There will be several verses to memorize throughout the course of the season. If a player can't memorize the verse for the first game, they will get another opportunity to memorize a verse for the following game.
